

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President appoints Thursday, November 29th.
By the President of the United States—A Proclamation:
The recurrence of that season at which it is the habit of our people to make devout and public confession of their constant dependence on Divine favor for all good gifts of life and happiness, and of public peace and prosperity, as exhibited in the record of the year, the abundant harvests of the field and the vine, the crops of the staples of trade and manufactures which have enriched the country; the resources thus far furnished to our reviving industry and expanding commerce, and the cheering day and breadth of the land, under the countenance and favor of Providence, have given way to confidence and energy and assured prosperity; peace with all nations has remained unbroken; domestic tranquility has prevailed, and the institutions of liberty and justice which the wisdom and virtue of our fathers established, remain the glory and the defense of the children. The general prevalence of the blessings of health throughout our wide land has made more conspicuous the sufferings and sorrows which the dark shadow of pestilence has cast on a portion of our people. This heavy affliction even the Divine Ruler has tempered to the suffering communities by the universal sympathy and succor which have flowed to their relief, and the whole nation may rejoice in the unity of spirit in our people by which they cheerfully share one another's burdens.
I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do appoint Thursday, the 29th day of November next, as a day of National thanksgiving and prayer, and earnestly recommend that, withdrawing themselves from secular cares and labors, the people of the United States do meet together on that day in their respective places of worship, there to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for His mercies, and to devoutly beseech His continuing aid.
In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 30th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and the third of the independence of the United States one hundred and third.
R. B. HAYES.
By the President,
W. M. EVARTS, Secretary of State.

THE EXPORTS OF GRAIN.

The development of the agricultural interests of the United States is one of the encouraging signs of the time. The progress in that direction is rapid and significant, and every year it is becoming more and more important. The only competitor the United States has in cereals is Russia. Russia is the greatest agricultural country in Europe, and in some respects the greatest in the world. She has a population of 64 millions, and her cultivated area is about 271 millions of acres. The United States has an estimated population of 47 millions, while in 1877 the Agricultural Department at Washington gave the number of acres under cultivation at 120 millions. Taking into account that Russia has only 40 per cent more population than the United States, yet 126 per cent larger cultivated area than we have, it is not a little surprising that we should out-distance Russia altogether in exporting grain and flour to Great Britain. The United Kingdom is unable to supply her people with breadstuffs raised on her own soil. Her harvests have been gradually decreasing, and for this reason she depends largely upon imports. The countries which enter into competition in supplying Great Britain, are the United States and Russia—the two nations which have the largest surplus of grain for export. The result of the contest is remarkable, and shows how successfully this country has virtually put Russia to flight. To show the amount of exports of wheat, flour, and corn, from the United States and Russia to Great Britain, since 1868, we present the following table which gives official figures:

Year.	United States, cwt.	Russia, cwt.
1868	10,584,000	10,776,000
1869	10,347,000	9,776,000
1870	14,343,000	12,827,000
1871	17,750,000	12,827,000
1872	20,422,000	13,345,000
1873	32,142,000	11,029,000
1874	32,027,000	12,827,000
1875	37,360,000	16,831,000
1876	48,729,000	9,715,000
1877	49,730,000	11,169,000

From the above, it will be seen that our annual exports to the United Kingdom are rapidly increasing. Russia is making no advance notwithstanding her vast cultivated area, while the progress made by the United States in agricultural development and in the exports of her products, is astonishingly great. This country can hold its position as a competitor of Russia. Virtually our agriculture is in its infancy yet. Our broad domains are being brought under cultivation, and the product of wheat is being increased by millions of bushels every year.

According to the latest report of the Department of Agriculture, the 130 millions of acres were divided up as follows:

Crops.	Acres.
Wheat	26,277,546
Corn	50,369,113
Cattle	1,012,148
Barley	1,412,992
Potatoes	1,614,654
Swamp	6,250,000
Buckwheat	25,307,708
	649,225
Total acres	130,310,251

The fifth of November, 1878, will mark the downfall of Butlerism in Massachusetts, and the end of fiatism in the United States.

The Wisconsin Musical Association will hold its annual convention at Ripon, commencing Tuesday, December 3, and continuing four days. It will be under the direction of Prof. Sullivan, of Chicago.

Thirty States held elections to-day. There never were so many State elections held before on one day, except of course, in Presidential years. An effort will be made to have all the States hold their elections on the same day.

We publish to-day the opinion of Justice Lynn, of the Supreme Court, in the case of the State ex rel Burpee vs. Barton. As the opinion concerns school government and the power of a teacher to suspend a scholar for misconduct, it is of much importance, and should be carefully read and studied by parents and teachers.

Dr. Thomas, of Chicago, whom the Rock River Conference attempted to dismiss for alleged heresy, is more popular than ever in Chicago, and especially with his church, the Centenary.

THE ELECTIONS.

Special to the Gazette.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The election is passing off quietly, and a fair vote will be polled. The Greenback vote is light, and a good deal of scratching is being done. The Republicans are confident of a victory.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—There is a large vote, with the Republican ticket ahead.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 5.—A large vote, and the Greenback vote not equal to last month.

NEW ORLEANS, November 5.—A full vote and the Democrats leading.

NEW YORK, November 5.—Clear and cold. There is a determined fight between Tammany and Anti Tammany and betting is largely in favor of the latter.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 5.—The Greenback vote is very light. The fight is between the Democrats and Republicans for Congressmen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—It is impossible to give any idea of the result. Three hundred Democrats have been arrested for voting on fraudulent naturalization papers. The bail was fixed at $2,000 each.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Samuel Wright, a Republican supervisor of the 17th ward, was shot to-day, by an unknown party.

SEVERE STORM.

Special to the Gazette.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Advises from Port au Prince gives an account of a severe storm on the 4th of September when 400 houses were destroyed at Cayes. Many lives were lost. Many other towns suffered in like manner. Aquin and Cavi-lon were completely destroyed, and 60 lives were lost.

FIRE.

Special to the Gazette.

OBERLINE, Ill., Nov. 5.—The great barn of John Taylor, in Dickinson county, was burned this morning, filled with stock and grain. Loss $25,000.

THREATENING.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in a leading editorial article, says: "That the United States should choose this precise moment to publish, what seems from the telegraphic summary to be a rather threatening dispatch, addressed by Secretary Everts to American Minister Welsh, can scarcely be regarded as accidental. All the world can see that we have on our hands just now quite as much as we can well deal with, and a really friendly power, with a grievance like that, while holding to its position, would refrain from casting the matter in an irritating way before the public until our affairs had assumed a more peaceful aspect. At any rate this is what, according to the admirers of the Alabama arbitration, we might certainly have expected from America. The truth is, that while the very party with which the bargain was made still holds office in the United States, the first opportunity is seized to make a point against us, just when it reckoned that our other difficulties may force us to give way. Nothing else was to be expected, and, for our part.

We are inclined to thank Everts for teaching our countrymen that nations generally are no more inclined to forego their advantages over one another in the nineteenth century than they are in the eighteenth, sixteenth, or first. Let sentimentalist blame Everts, for he has disappointed them, not us. American newspaper, of all shades of political opinion without giving a moment's consideration, let us hope, to the fact that the quarrel has nothing whatever to do with the award of $5,000,000 in favor of Canada at Halifax, come forward at once, with the contention that this money, due and long overdue to us, must not be paid until, and unless, this new difference is settled in a way they think right. Nine million dollars of the Alabama indemnity still remains without any reasonable claim, and here are $5,000,000 more to be retained.

POLITICAL.

MADISON, Nov. 4.—The closing of the campaign in Wisconsin to-night shows the Republican forces in splendid condition for the great battle at the polls to-morrow. From all parts of the State comes the cheering intelligence that a grand and sweeping victory will reward the Republicans, without doubt. Careful figures here claim that the Republicans will have a majority on joint ballot in the Legislature of from fifteen to seventeen. Prominent Democrats admit to-night that the Legislature is very likely to be Republican and concede the election of Caswell, in this district, to Congress, and also that the county ticket will be that of Republican, if not entirely so.

FOND DU LAC, Nov. 4.—The last Republican meeting of the campaign here was a grand success to-night. It was addressed by J. B. Cassaday, of Janesville, and Prof. C. A. Hutchins, of this city. The latter is a life-long Democrat, but is speaking now for honest money. The largest hall in the city was thronged.

BELOIT, Nov. 4.—The Greenbackers made their final effort this evening by holding a large meeting at the Opera House, addressed by E. R. Pierce, of Maine. Many leading Democrats here refused to be swallowed by the fusion party, and will vote for sound money and C. G. Williams.

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 4.—William and Benjamin Sawyer, two brothers who ran the oil mill on East Main street, got into a violent quarrel this forenoon in their office, when Bill went to a drawer, took therefrom a big navy revolver eighteen inches long, and fired three shots at his brother, who was sitting only six feet away. One of the shots struck Ben in the head, inflicting a very dangerous scalp-wound, which may result in his death. Filled with remorse, no doubt, Bill went out of the office, pistol in hand, down through the cellar to the rear of the building, where he shot himself through the right temple. Both brothers were taken to their respective homes, and Bill died one hour after. A jury returned a verdict of suicide. Ben's recovery is despaired of by the physicians. He may live two weeks. Deceased was 38 years of age, and the wounded brother is past 60. They did a business of $150,000 a year, and are said to have been worth $50,000. The cause of the tragedy was a dispute about an old settlement involving $800. The firm was widely known in all parts of the country. The business of the firm was in a flourishing condition. The evidence before the jury elicited the fact that Bill was partially insane. Deceased has relatives in Pennsylvania and this city, all in affluent circumstances.

TRAGEDY.

FIRE.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 4.—The farm-house of John Cavanaugh, on old Judge H. S. Orton's place, Blooming Grove, was destroyed by fire last night. The house was built thirty years ago, and was one of the oldest landmarks in the county. The fire caught in the roof from a defective chimney. The goods were removed from the first floor, but all the stuff up-stairs, including the family stock of winter clothing, was entirely destroyed. The family is very poor. Insurance in the Madison Mutual was only $500.

MAKING SOLID.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—Many Democrats boast that, should their party carry the next Presidency, it will take at least a quarter of a century to drive them from from. This they say they can do easily. So long as they can keep the South solid they can take permanent possession of the Senate by making four States of Texas and admitting New Mexico. This is a favorite scheme in the minds of Democrats who want to look well to the future.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The short-time movement is gradually extending in the mills of Burnley, where there will soon be 350,000 spindles and 6,000 to 7,000 looms operated on short time. The India Mill, the largest in Darwen, has stopped.

MADISON.

MADISON, Nov. 4.—This city is being troubled with burglars who almost nightly break in the rear windows of stores and steal the contents of tills. They are supposed to be a gang of men living in town.

ROCK.

—Charles Griffin, of this town, claims to have husked 143 bushels of corn in one day. Who can beat this?

—Rev. C. T. Roe, of Rockton, Illinois, preached at Afton, last Sabbath. He has consented to again supply the pulpit here, from which work he was obliged to retire about nine months since, on account of ill health. He will be heartily welcomed by the people of this community.

—Afton school will open Nov. 18, with Mr. E. W. Sims as teacher.

—The following resolutions were adopted by Afton Division, No. 97, S. of T., at their regular meeting, November 1, 1878:

WHEREAS: It has pleased the Great Patriarch above, in the order of his Providence, to remove from our midst our worthy sister, Lucy C. Church; therefore

Resolved, That in her we have lost a worthy member and an earnest worker in the cause of temperance, and do deeply deplore the loss we have sustained, but bow in humble submission to the will of Him "Who useth all things well."

Resolved, That we tender our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to the relatives and friends, of our deceased sister, trusting that God, in his infinite wisdom, will heal the wounds that death has made, yet we feel that our loss is her eternal gain.

Resolved, That our sister be draped in mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the relatives of the deceased, also published in the Sun of Temperance and the county papers.

CLARA MCCLINTON, ETTA GIFFIN, CHARLES SEARLES, H. D. KIMBALL.

FOOTVILLE.

—Owing to unforeseen difficulties, the Footville Dramatic Association will not render their play on Wednesday evening of this week, but on Wednesday evening, November 13th. Let them have a full house.

—Don't forget that the popular lecturer, Rev. Mr. Eaton, lectures in the M. E. church, Friday night, November 8th.

—We notice again on our street the familiar face of our friend George Snyder, who has just returned from school at White-water to take upon himself the duties of a teacher.

—School will open here November 18th, Mr. Hobart Richards and Miss Nellie Beach presiding.

—A P. Snyder, J. B. Dennis, and S. M. Braden leave us soon to take charge of their different schools for the winter.

—Temple of Honor dance at Snyder's Hall, Friday night of this week.

—Remember "Among the Breakers," November 13.

no one to tell him that all of human knowledge may be found in a certain moderate number of volumes, nor to point out to him approximately what they are. Each book was in his view a distinct part of the great domain, and he meant to lose none of it. He began with the solid treatises of a dusty leather shelf and actually read, in the accomplishment of his heroic purpose, fifteen feet in a line. He omitted no book and skipped nothing in the book. The list contained among others Newton's "Principia," Ure's scientific dictionary, and Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy."

Gout and Great Men. The Earl of Beaconsfield is reported to be suffering from gout. If the disease can be kept from his heart and stomach no apprehensions need be felt for his safety, though he is far advanced in his seventy-third year. Gout is not pleasant to have, but it may be regarded as rather healthy than otherwise, for it is generally slow in killing and keeps down other maladies. Lord Palmerston, who was a martyr to it, lived to be eighty-one, and was a very successful statesman whose toes and fingers were unpleasantly swollen. We suppose, however, that none of them would have been the worse had they been more abstinent with regard to wine and high seasoned food.

The Sanitary Effect of Housework Upon Women. Many of the ills and diseases prevalent among women in our day are, no doubt, traceable to the sedentary mode of life so common among them. The progress of modern industrial art has done away with much of the household drudgery to which women were formerly subjected, and the result is in too many cases want of sufficient occupation for needed bodily exertion.

The fruits of this state of things are strikingly exhibited in certain observations made by the late Mr. Robertson, a Manchester surgeon, who in his practice as a specialist for women's diseases, found that in women who themselves performed all their household work there was no trace of certain complaints; that these complaints begin to make their appearance in women with one servant, become more pronounced in women who have two servants, or worse still with those who have three servants, and so on. He showed statistically that the deaths from child-birth were four times greater in the case of women with four servants than those with none.

GAZETTE, TRIPPING CO

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1878.

MILTON.

Last Saturday evening College Chapel

was filled with one of the most intelligent audiences that ever assembled there, drawn together to hear President Albert Whit-ford's address on the currency question.

The Cornet Band furnished music, which added very much to the pleasure of the occasion, and came out as a mark of respect to the speaker. President Whitford mounted the rostrum shortly after 7 o'clock and after a few minutes had the close attention of his hearers. His effort was a clear, logical argument in favor of honest money, and a complete refutation of the claims of the fiatists. The address is universally commended by the friends of honest money as the clearest exposition of the current question to which they have had the pleasure of listening. It is to be regretted that this effort was not delivered earlier in the campaign, as it would have made a valuable campaign document for general circulation. The political associates of President Whitford, and especially his neighbors, desire the writer to return to their hearts and hands the class of address in giving them this admirable address.

—Mrs. Emory Burdick, of Davis County, Illinois, who has been in Iowa visiting relations for some weeks past, was in town

Thursday visiting her parents.

—Mr. Stephen C. Maxson, of Walla-

Walla, Washington Territory, made a pleasant call last Thursday. Mr. Maxson and wife arrived last Wednesday night

direct from the Pacific coast, their first visit since leaving this town twenty-one years ago. When they removed from Wisconsin to Walla-Walla they were on the coast en route after visiting Omaha, and the trip here was made in two weeks in evidence of the advantages which steam conferers on its patrons as compared with horse and ox locomotion. Mr. Maxson's

many friends are glad to meet him here after so long an absence.

—The Hyer Sisters' entertainment in Immenes, as well as a trip to Janesville, is a snow storm. The vocal music is grand and the solos of King and the Hyers, and the specialties of Kersands would drive away any man's blues.

—The "Ferry" farm has been rented to Mr. Wilbur at a cash rent of three hundred dollars per annum. The farm is a good one of one hundred and ten acres.

—D. Williams' cat fell into Goodrich's well

one day last week, and remained there 48 hours. When drawn out Thomas wended his way home thoroughly disgusted with hydropathy. He roared on the well curb during his stay in the bowels of the earth.

—Mr. Burdick, the gentlemanly singing agent for the Gazette, worked this town last week with a fair degree of success.

—D. F. Hudson sold two sows last week that tipped the beam at thirteen hundred and five pounds. They were not very fat, having been fed but two months, and could have been made to weigh sixteen hundred.

—The turkey raising season opened last week and many a ruralist loses two or three dollars to win a fifty cent turkey and lose a pirate to his side when he takes the bird home.

—If the summer weather had continued until January many farmers would not have been ready for winter and would have growled because the weather had not been just the thing for corn husk-

ing.

—The Weekly Gazette is the best paper

in the State.

—A number of farms in this vicinity have been rented for next season at a cash rent of three to five dollars per acre. Some people seem to have considerable confidence in farming as a means of livelihood.

—Some of the young loafers, whose widowed mothers often feed them by taking in washing, smoke through bred tobacco and imported cigars, are chronic gambler about "hard times." They ought to be obliged to fiddle over a saw back for cold victuals.

—Thirteen years ago the section hand

on a dot and half day and paid $30

for a live hog that weighed 200 pounds,

now he earns a dollar a day and buys the same amount of hog for $5. Then he worked about 15 days for his pork, now he works only five.

—Elder Potts, who has been residing here for a year past, has gone back to Woodman, and has taken with him family, rabbits, guinea pigs and chickens.

—Workmen put the water tank in order for the winter last week.

—Doc Allen began to shingle his house

last week and as a natural result a nasty storm set in. It always rains when a roof leaks.

—The entertainment which the students have been preparing for the purpose of Ind., was in town, Saturday, with his counsel, J. J. Dennett.

—Mr. Baldwin raised his barn Sunday afternoon. It didn't take as much whisky for as many men to "raise" it as it did when the writer was a boy.

—It Richardson was in town Sunday,

looking hale and hearty. "Raiph" is now on a tour through the country representing Gage Bros. & Co. of Chicago.

—Sunday morning the P. M. M. Madison associate, and the cornet player, characterized the services and vehicle of a man who is "sweet" rather than sour, to take them to Newville. Now we do not mean that the quartet were in a condition otherwise than sober, but it was an actual fact that the trip was made with both hind wheels on the same side of the wagon, like the four wheels in a similar fix. The party wondered how the rains washed the road all on one side, but failed to ascertain the facts in the case until after their destination was reached. No other explanation is needed as to why they failed to shoot

any ducks.

—Doc Allen's buggy broke in two in the middle Sunday while his son Gale was driving the team. The king bolt was broken and when the buggy pulled apart the youngster went over the dash and the team left him, but fortunately were caught before doing any damage to the buggy attached to them.

VEGETINE

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures for all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory, and convinced myself of its genuine. It is prepared from herbs, roots, and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astounding results."

VEGETINE

Is the great Blood Purifier.

Will cure the worst case of Scrofula.
